If you need examples of persons responding to God's call, look at Abraham and Sarah – called in old age to leave their country and have a child. Then Abraham was asked to sacrifice that child. What faith! Answering God's call to be a priest, brother, sister or deacon is also taking a great risk. If you are willing, and think God is calling you to a Church vocation, call Fr. Matt McCarthy, Director of Vocations, Archdiocese of Toronto at 416-968-0997.

REFLECTIONS ON STEWARDSHIP

In a culture that is increasingly secular, living out the Gospel and practicing stewardship can lead to many trials that may tempt us to give up our pursuit of holiness. In times like this we can find great consolation in the words of St. Paul who says that nothing can separate us from the love of Christ. When our life of stewardship becomes difficult, let us take a moment to simply pray: "I love you Jesus, help me to be more aware of your love for me."

DOCTRINAL CORNER

Why can't habitual sinners be forgiven?

"It is clear that penitents living in a habitual state of serious sin and who do not intend to change their situation cannot be validly given absolution." (Pope John Paul II's Misericordia Dei #7c). A penitent is required to have true sorrow for sin and the resolve not to commit that sin again. If a person enters the confessional yet he still intends to commit that sin, he is not truly sorry since there is no real repentance and conversion. For example, if a person confesses adultery but intends as soon as he leaves the confessional to return to that adulterous union, he is not truly sorry for that sin and does not have the firm purpose of amendment to change his life. The same is true for divorced persons who have remarried without a declaration of nullity for the previous marriage or two persons who are in a living-in relationship and those not married in the church. God, in His infinite mercy, desires to forgive sin and reconcile the sinner to Himself, but the sinner himself must intend as best as he can to abandon sin and return to the Lord.

St. Rose of Lima Parish has a small gift shop at the Narthex. It opens every Sunday after all Masses. We sell Rosaries, Medals, Baptism, First Holy Communion & Confirmation religious articles, etc.
