Pentecost:

Like many of the great feasts of Christianity, Pentecost had deep roots in Judaism. This celebration of the Spirit is better appreciated if these roots are recognized and revered. Originally an agricultural feast of thanksgiving for the grain harvest, Pentecost (Greek for “50 days”) or Shevuoth (Hebrew, “Feast of Weeks” or “First Fruits”), was later historicized and associated with the gift of the law at Sinai.

According to Jewish tradition, Moses and those who followed him out of Egypt traveled for seven weeks from Egypt to Sinai, during which time they were being spiritually and morally formed by Moses. Among contemporary reformed Jews, the seven weeks between Passover and Pentecost are devoted to the intense religious education of their youth, who, on the feast of Pentecost, or Shevuoth, affirm as a group their willingness to embrace the law and live by it.

Luke was ever careful to illustrate and affirm the continuity between Jesus’ ministry and that of his disciples, and thereby to legitimize and authenticate the work of the church. He credited the Holy Spirit as the reason for that continuity.

Pentecost has often been described as the birthday of the church. Perhaps it might be more accurate to refer to Pentecost as the celebration of the Spirit, who, like a midwife, tends carefully to the birth of the community of believers. The Spirit is there to assist as the church labors to witness to God’s truth, justice, peace and love. There to encourage when the going becomes difficult. There to comfort and strengthen when weakness sets in and quitting looks tempting. There to remind the community of its commitment to support and protect life, all life, from the womb to the tomb. There to challenge the community to rise above its smallness. There to draw the attention of the community to the needs of God’s poor ones. There to pray with every one of God’s own. There to keep all eyes on the goal of preaching the good news to all, without exception and without stinting. There to light a fire in the belly of those who have grown weary and disillusioned. There to heighten the sensitivities of the well-off and worry-free toward the plight of the lost and the wounded. There to shed light in the darkness. There to be the love that empowers all we are, all we do, all we become.

Like a great and holy enabler, it is the Spirit who aids us in interpreting who Jesus is and who empowers us to follow in Jesus’ ways. Hans Urs von Balthasar once explained that the human mind, on its own, is inadequate to understand Jesus and God (Does Jesus Know Us? Do We Know Him? Ignatius Press, San Francisco: 1983). Jesus’ disciples only understood fully when he breathed this Spirit into them after his resurrection (Gospel), and the assembled church when it received the Spirit at Pentecost (first reading).

So vitally necessary is the Spirit for the life and mission of the church that this great gift of God to us is often compared to water. The Spirit is “poured out into our hearts” (Rom 5:5) and “we are given to drink of the one Spirit” (second reading). It was the Spirit who was the “living water” promised by Jesus at Jacob's well; this Spirit became a spring within us, welling up to eternal life (John 4:10-14).

A representative of the Missionary Sisters of the Holy Rosary will be with us on the weekend of June 14 & 15th. The community was founded in Ireland in 1924 to work with the women of Nigeria, West Africa. The Missionary Sisters of the Holy Rosary are now an international community working in nine countries of Africa, and in Brazil and Mexico. They are strictly a missionary group with no institutions in the United States or Canada, so therefore rely almost exclusively on funds provided through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and the generosity of the people back home to support their sisters on mission. They are deeply grateful for any contribution you feel led to give. If you would like to see more about them, their website is: www.mshr.org

Father's Day is almost here! On June 15th, volunteers will be collecting the returned baby bottles at the back of church. Marillac Place relies heavily on these donations from our community to keep their doors open. Please support this important cause by returning your baby bottle filled with your donation next weekend. Thank you.

Based on his best-selling book, Dr. Scott Hahn reveals the early Christians' key to understanding the Mass: the Book of Revelation. With its bizarre imagery, mystic visions of Heaven, and end-times prophecies, it mirrors the sacrifice and celebration of the Holy Eucharist. See the Mass with new eyes, pray the Liturgy with a renewed heart, and enter into the Mass more fully and enthusiastically!

Parishioner Comments

Excellent! It is hard to express the spiritual impact this CD has had on me. I don't believe I will ever celebrate the Eucharist the same way again!
