For the 29th Sunday in Ordinary Time (The Gospel):

The question put to Jesus was a lawyer's trick question. It was not a question that sought enlightenment, but was put to trap Him. Was He to be seen as an insurrectionist revolutionary and an enemy of the State, or was He to be seen as a collaborator with the hated Roman authorities?

The Pharisees, the religious fundamentalists of the day, hated the Roman tax. The Herodians, those Jews who supported the Roman puppet King Herod, supported the tax. Both groups, the Pharisees and the Herodians, hated each other. But they joined together in a combined effort to trap Jesus and thus do away with Him.

With a canny response Jesus discredits them both. Both the Pharisees and the Herodians were Jews. Both groups, as Jews, rejected graven images as violations of the First Commandment. No Jew of any stripe would countenance the idea that idols were to be worshipped. Statues and images were totally forbidden as false, man-made gods.

Here we find Jesus in His response to their tricky question asking them for a coin, which they gave Him. They and Jesus were in the Temple area when this incident took place. The Roman coin had carved upon it the image of the infamous Tiberius Caesar, the one who had desecrated the Jewish Temple. The coin also bore the inscription: "Tiberius Caesar – Son of the Divine Augustus". On the coin's other side it designated him as "Pontifex Maximus", supreme priest. For Jews, this was blasphemous idolatry.

The fact that they had carried that coin with them into the Temple precincts shows that they thereby discredited themselves. No good Jew would be caught with such a coin on the Temple's grounds, the holiest site in all of Judaism.

Furthermore, Jesus' response was directed at the precise issue of whether or not the Roman taxes should be paid. Jesus said nothing about the autonomy of Caesar in his secular role. Nor was Jesus making any statement at all about separating religion from society.

So these questions remain: What is Caesar's, and what is God's? Is there anything at all that is not God's – is there anything at all in human activity that does not stand under God's judgment? Are we, exempting anything from God's purview? (Excerpt from homily by Fr. Charles Irvin on CatholicWeb.com)

Today, World Mission Sunday, with Catholics throughout the world, we are called to offer our prayers and generous financial support, through the Propagation of the Faith, for the worldwide mission of Jesus. Your gift on World Mission Sunday helps...

- ❖ People in remote villages, towns and cities through the witness and work of missionaries and local priests.
- ❖ Children, the elderly, refugees, the sick, and the orphans through the service of Religious Sisters and Brothers.
- ❖ To bring the Gospel to the poorest of our human family.
- ❖ Catechists proclaim the message of hope and peace that only Christ can give.

Please pray for the work of the Church in the Missions today – Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands & Latin America. And please be as generous as you can today, World Mission Sunday.

St. Jerome said: "Ignorance of Scripture is Ignorance of Christ". The key to understanding the Bible is finding a story that ties it all together. "The Bible Timeline: The Story of Salvation" DVD study program by Jeff Cavins will help uncover the story woven through scripture. Program starts October 20th and continues on Mondays at 7:30 pm in the Large Hall. Contact the parish office for more information.

Tuesday afternoon Bible Study – progress report: So far we are discovering together that the book of Revelation describes our Liturgy and shows us that as we experience the Liturgy we are also connected to the heavenly Liturgy. When one begins to really understand the Mass in this way, one has a whole new appreciation for the beauty and importance of the Mass. The explanations and teachings from Jeff Cavins on how to read the book of Revelation is bringing the Mass alive in a whole new way.

For those parishioners who are not able to attend this Bible Study, please consider listening to the following CD which describes how a study of the book of Revelation led to a conversion.
