HEAVEN ON EARTH

In the inspired gospels, Our Lord's teaching consists of many different strands.

He taught His hearers about God, that is to say, about Himself and the other two Persons of the Blessed Trinity. He taught them about the rights and wrongs of leading a good life, morality. He taught them about religious observance. He taught them about their final reward after death. But there is one strand of His teaching which, in a sense, encompasses all of these aspects. It is His teaching about the Kingdom of God.

From His teaching, we know that this Kingdom, while reaching its full perfection only in heaven, is nonetheless already present here on earth. We know that it is to be found among those who follow Christ, are united with Him by faith, and by the expression of that faith in their moral lives.

We know that this expression of faith, this union with Christ, is not a solitary activity. Through our individual union with Christ, we are also united with all our other fellow disciples, both living and departed, at all times, in the Church He founded.

Excerpts from the Message for Father's Day 2024 From His Grace Most Reverend Francis Leo

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I wish to extend my warmest best wishes and God's abundant blessings upon all the Fathers in the Archdiocese of Toronto, with a resounding "Happy Father's Day," and to thank you for your faithfulness to such an incredible vocation in the Church.

..... Most of Jesus' preaching focused on Our Heavenly Father, and the Kingdom of God, both of which provided insight into the Father's love for us. The pinnacle of Jesus' revelation concerning God the Father was precisely his "fatherhood," an insight into the inner life of God which is love. God the Father's love is the basis of one of the most famous and central scriptural passages: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life" (Jn.3-16).

..... Dear Fathers, on this special day I want to encourage you in the complete gift of your life for the good of your marriage and family. How great it is to father a child; and yet becoming a loving, responsible and reliable dad takes great heart, patience, intentionality and courage. You play such a vital and irreplaceable role in your child's life and in the stability of the family unit. The impact of your contribution on the daily life of your family members is immense. Your presence, affection, discipline and personal faith journey are necessary to educate and raise your child into the adult the Lord is calling him/her to be and to help them fulfill their God-given calling in their own lives.

..... St. Joseph, the just man, husband and father, teaches us many things about fatherhood, but perhaps the most profound lesson is that happiness as a father is found not in mere self-sacrifice but in self-gift. In this context, self-sacrifice refers to a partial giving up for the sake of another, whereas self-gift is the complete and total self-donation of oneself to another.

..... Finally, let us call to mind and pray for the fathers who have passed on to eternity. We likewise pray for those family situations and circumstances where fathers are not present, where tragedy has hit, where homes are broken and facing hardships of many kinds. Let us never lose hope but rather come to the Lord in faith and prayer as He is the source of all hope and new life. I thank you, dear Fathers, for your commitment and your love for your family, for God and for the Church. I assure you of my fervent prayers that you may always be pleasing to the Lord in the way you raise your family. I congratulate you in your efforts to fulfill your vocation as an incredible gift of self-giving in fidelity, love and devotion.
