Jesus is our Good Shepherd. He shows His love by caring for us the way a shepherd cares for his flock. The way to show our love for Jesus is to help look after each other. Pray with our children for the grace to find ways to show love to others.

Reflection: On Good Shepherd Sunday, you must re-examine your commitment to pastoral responsibilities. To shepherd well, you must direct the sheep to the Lord's pasture. There is great jubilation in heaven over one repentant sinner than over ninety-nine who need no repentance. Our attitude as pastors must be expressed in the parable of the lost sheep; ninety-nine per cent score or attendance is not satisfactory. You must strive until you reach excellence. To lead others, be ready to make sacrifices. Remember Ezekiel's prophecy that warns us of abuse of any pastoral office entrusted to us; the duty of a shepherd is to feed the sheep, and not to feed on the sheep. If you do not exercise the pastoral ministries properly, the Lord may take His flock out of your charge. You must make the followers nurture a good relationship with God. As parents, pastor your children well. 'God's Word, Daily Reflections 2024'
