2023 the Year of Matthew – Gospel - Sunday by Sunday From the introduction of the Catholic Serendipity Bible 1999

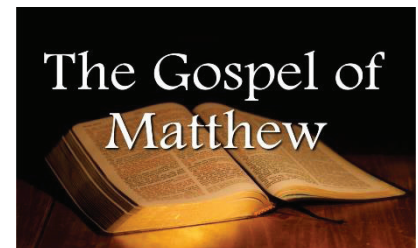

Theme: Jesus, the long-promised Messiah and authoritative teacher.

Historical Background: The first three Gospels cover many of the same events in Jesus' life in the same way. For that reason, they are often called the "synoptic Gospels" meaning that they are "able to be seen together". It is generally assumed that Matthew and Luke used as their prime source in compiling their writings. In Matthew nearly 90% of the material in Mark is reproduced. These similarities, however, do not mean that the Gospels are merely a restatement of each other. Matthew adds many teaching sections and other details not found in Mark. Matthew slants his material to Jewish readership as he cited numerous Old Testament prophecies that were fulfilled in Jesus' life and ministry. His purpose was to show that Jesus is the promised Son of David, the Messiah, come to establish the kingdom of God.

Characteristics: Matthew's frequent citation of the Old Testament prophecies makes it the perfect book to bridge the Old Testament and the New Testament. While strongly oriented to be a witness to the Jews, Matthew also makes it clear that the Messiah has come for all peoples. Several teaching sections illustrate what life in the kingdom of heaven is all about.

Author: Although not named, a long tradition has assigned it to Matthew, the tax collector who became an apostle

RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION OF ADULTS (RCIA)

DESCRIPTION OF PROCESS:

This process prepares unbaptized adults for the Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist). It also prepares those adults who have been baptized in another faith for full Communion with the Catholic Church.

SCHEDULE: Our parish will be partnering with Our Lady of Hope parish. Sessions will be held every Wednesday evening from 7:00 – 8:30 pm. (location to be determined) beginning on February 1 and culminating with the celebration of the Sacraments at the Easter Vigil on Saturday, April 8. There are also periodic liturgical celebrations held at the regular Sunday Mass during the Season of Lent. If anyone is interested in participating in this journey of faith, please register with the parish office by Friday, January 27.
