Reflection: Soon after he began his ministry in Cana of Galilee, Jesus came to Jerusalem for the Passover. A pilgrimage to the temple was supposed to be a sacred experience. The Passover itself was a celebration of liberation. That sacredness was destroyed by the atmosphere that prevailed in the temple: buying, selling and currency exchange! Instead of establishing a relationship with God, the place turned out to be a commercial centre dealing with money. He shows uncharacteristic anger, an unexpected outburst and "cleans" up the Temple by turning tables over and chasing the animals away. Lent is a time to clean up the 'Temple' of our body. Our life gets cluttered in ways we never planned. There may be merchants and moneychangers that need to be driven out of the Temple of our lives. This could be a time to address the imperfections that may have grown into major areas of neglect. 'God's Word, Daily Reflections 2024.'
