St. Michael the Archangel is one of the three angels mentioned in the Scriptures, the others being St. Raphael and St. Gabriel. We can find in these references St. Michael: as one of the "chief princes" who engage in a battle to aid in victory for God's elect (Daniel 10:13- 21 and 12:1); it is he who contends with the devil, disputing over the body of Moses, not speaking a reviling word against him but simply saying "The Lord rebuke you!" (Jude 5:9); and then the most dramatic is in that great battle in Heaven, when the wicked angels under Lucifer revolt against God, and how Michael, leading the faithful angels, defeats the hosts of evil and drives them out (Revelation 12:7-9). Because of this victory, St. Michael is revered in Catholic tradition as the protector of the Church, with a liturgical feast every September 29.

Saint Michael the Archangel is not a saint but an angel who is the leader of all angels and the commander of God's army. This function is what the title "Archangel" denotes that he is superior to all others in terms of authority and has four primary obligations, which are:

1. Combating Satan.
2. Escorting the faithful to paradise at the hour of their death.
3. As the defender of all Christians and the Church herself.
4. The one to summon humanity from their earthly existence to their divine judgment.

Let us pray sincerely this prayer (originated with Pope Leo XIII in 1886):

Saint Michael Archangel, defend us in battle, be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil; may God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host, by God's power, cast into hell Satan and all the evil spirits who prowl through the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.
