The ASCENSION OF JESUS according to the BIBLE and in the Catechism of the Catholic Church

The Gospel according to Luke and Acts of the Apostles contain direct accounts of the Ascension of the Lord. While it was only implied or alluded to in the Gospel according to Mark, Matthew, and in John.

In LUKE 24:51: Jesus leads the eleven remaining disciples to Bethany, a village on the Mount of Olives, and instructs them to remain in Jerusalem until the coming of the Holy Spirit: "And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he parted from them, and was carried up into heaven. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy." Meanwhile in ACTS 1: 1-9: Jesus tells the disciples to remain in Jerusalem and await the coming of the Holy Spirit; he is then taken up from the disciples in their sight, a cloud hides him from view, and two men in white appear to tell them that he will return "in the same way you have seen him go into heaven. The other books in the New Testament refer to an ascension without specifying details: Romans 8:34; Ephesians 1:19-20; Colossians 3:1; Philippians 2:9 – 11; 1 Timothy 3:16 and 1 Peter 3:21-22.

"HE ASCENDED INTO HEAVEN AND IS SEATED AT THE RIGHT HAND OF THE FATHER" --- in brief from CCC 665-667

--- Christ's Ascension marks the definitive entrance of Jesus' humanity into God's heavenly domain, whence he will come again (cf. Acts 1:11); this humanity in the meantime hides him from the eyes of men (cf. Col 3:3).

--- Jesus Christ, the head of the Church, precedes us into the Father's glorious kingdom so that we, the members of his Body, may live in the hope of one day being with him forever.

--- Jesus Christ, having entered the sanctuary of heaven once and for all, intercedes constantly for us as the mediator who assures us of the permanent outpouring of the Holy Spirit.
