The Bible encourages us to show kindness and compassion to all those around us in order to build stronger relationships and communities --- "Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others" (Philippians 2:4)

St. Francis of Assisi understood the other as all of creation. Everything is connected. When we respect the created world, we acknowledge God as our Creator and the inherent value of all things. This respect for all creation is expressed in many ways: the collaborative participation in various efforts of safeguarding nature; respect for life from the moment of conception up to the moment of passing on to eternal life; the meaningful cooperation in every good works.
