Grateful in the midst of Trial and Tribulation

Dear Parishioners:

As we celebrate Thanksgiving Weekend, it is quite obvious that Thanksgiving 2020 is much different in tone, circumstance and outlook than last year. If I were to ask you last year what things are you grateful for, you might say, family, our big dinner/get-together, rest from our busy lives, outings at different events, like the Annual Fair or some other socials, etc. This year we will not have the big gathering or outings with a large crowd. Even our Thanksgiving Dinner will be smaller and quieter than normal. It will be quite a different Thanksgiving than previous years.

Given the COVID-19 pandemic, perhaps we should just write off 2020 and suspend Thanksgiving all together? I would say quite the contrary. We need this Thanksgiving more than ever.

As we continue to undergo this calamitous event, we need to pause and put things in perspective. We need to be thankful for the individuals and blessings that perhaps we took for granted pre-pandemic, such, as our health, healthcare/frontline workers, competent leadership, our Sunday Eucharist, small but significant gestures of kindness from family, friends and strangers, etc.

So what should we be grateful for this year? As we have our small gatherings or virtual encounters, let us be thankful for the things we take for granted, and above all, for God’s abiding love and healing grace.

God bless and Happy Thanksgiving!

Fr. Peter Ciallella
